RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

On 25 April 2017, the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe voted to restart monitoring Turkey in connection with human rights, the rule of law and the state of democracy. This decision might result in (or contribute to) a deterioration of the relationship between Turkey and the EU.

On 26 April 2017, the Central Bank increased its late liquidity window lending rate by 50 basis points to 12.25%, while keeping its overnight lending rate at 9.25%, its overnight borrowing rate at 7.25% and its one-week repo rate at 8.00%.

As of April 2017, annual consumer price inflation reached 11.87%, principally increasing due to an increase in the price of food, while core inflation remained almost stable at 9.5% as clothing prices rose by only 9% compared to its 10-year average of 12% while the remaining core prices still show signals of exchange rate pass-through. Annual producer price inflation increased to 16.4%, signaling inflation is likely to accelerate.

The section titled “Turkish Regulatory Environment” starting on page 155 of the Base Prospectus is hereby amended by the addition of the following at the end thereof:

In order to improve financing possibilities and contribute to the effective operation of the credit system, pursuant to provisional article 20 of the Law regarding the Regulation of Public Financing and Debt Management (Law No. 4749) dated 28 March 2002, resources up to TL 2 billion could be transferred by the Minister in charge of the Turkish Treasury to the credit guarantee institutions. Such amount has been increased to TL 25 billion in accordance with the Law No. 6670 dated 18 January 2017. In addition, pursuant to Decree No. 2016/9538 on Treasury Support to be provided to the Credit Guarantee Institutions (published in the Official Gazette No. 29896 and dated 22 November 2016) and Decree numbered 2017/9969 regarding amendments to the Decree on Treasury Support to be provided to the Credit Guarantee Institutions, the KGF guarantees are supported by the Turkish Treasury. The KGF can provide guarantees for up to 90% of the sum of interest, dividend and rent payments except for the default interest and principal balance on the date of loan payment for SMEs and up to 85% of such amounts for non-SMEs. If a loan is provided through any Turkish bank to an SME, or a non-SME engaged in foreign exchange earning activities, then these loans may be guaranteed up to 100%.
